California State Licensed or State Approved Child Welfare Agencies

The Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services, has given states discretion to define which entities constitute “state-licensed or state-approved child welfare agencies providing services.” The California Department of Social Services has defined “state-licensed or state-approved child welfare agencies” in this context to include all entities and organizations, including county welfare departments that directly engage in the development and/or implementation of the case plan for current foster and adoptive children who receive Title IV-E assistance. “Staff” of these agencies includes any individuals who are invited, contracted, or voluntarily participate in support of the child and family so long as they are doing so at the behest of a state-licensed or state-approved child welfare agency.

Consistent with the focus of the Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoption Act of 2008, the recognition of the involvement of non-public child welfare staff in support of Title IV-E eligible children and families are integral to improving outcomes. It is crucial to have increased engagement of family members in identifying individuals, groups, and agencies that are engaged at key decision points and throughout the life of the case plan.

As part of the case plan implementation for Title IV-E eligible children and families these providers may be integrally involved in a variety of team processes such as: Team Decision Making, Family Group Decision Making, and Wraparound Teams. Given the nature of non-public child welfare groups and individuals (listed below) in their ongoing work with Title IV-E eligible children and families, it is critical that joint and cross system training occur to support consistent messaging and improved shared practice.

Below are listed the organizations or individuals that may be considered staff of state-licensed or state-approved child welfare agencies and how they fit within the context of providing child welfare services:

- Parent/Family Support Partner individuals or organizations: Activities of engagement result in reduced resistance by the family/child and increased readiness to engage and make necessary changes as described in their case plan.
- Faith-based community organizations: Provide culturally relevant sources of support, training, re-assessment and capacity building for the family--providing ready access support at the local/community level.
- Extended family members, caregivers, and non-caregivers: Maintain the continuity of care, connection, and support for children in care. As the child transitions to permanency, sustain and implement the case plan, and support and facilitate visitation.
